INDIGNATION RISES OVER SLAYING OF AL LINGLE

PLEDGES MILLIONS TO RID
CHICAGO OF GANGSTERS

MURDERED REPORTER BURIED YESTERDAY WITH MILITARY CEREMONIES

Chicago, June 13.—(U.P.)—Public indignation over the fact that a gangster murdered a newspaper reporter in daylight amid the bustle of a modern city and vanished without trace rolled to new heights today.

Seven powerful newspapers pooled their pitiless powers of publicity; ministers exhorted 2,000,000 church members to action and industry and commerce pledged its millions to rid Chicago, once and for all, of the underworld forces that make such a murder possible.

Since St. Valentine's Day in 1929 Chicago has witnessed more than 100 gang murders but not until Alfred J. Lingle, reporter of gangland for the Tribune, was assassinated did public opinion harden so rapidly as it has this week under the editorial lash.

Shortly after the murdered reporter was buried yesterday with the solemn pageantry of religion and the more colorful trapping of the military, there appeared in four afternoon newspapers a "declaration of war" on gangland. Today three morning newspapers bore the same announcement. Couched in blunt and forceful language, the brief "war declaration" that "civic decency and security of life and property must be restored to Chicago," was signed by the publishers of the Evening American, the Daily News, the Evening Post, the Daily Illustrated Times, the Herald and Examiner, the Journal of Commerce and the Tribune.

Added to the cold type appeal of the newspapers were the voices of dozens of ministers, headed by Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the skyscraper First Methodist church, and the Rev. Phillip Yarrow, chairman of the political action committee of the Chicago Federation of Churches. Dr. Thompson rallied Methodist leaders for a mass meeting to protest the "state of lawlessness into which Chicago has fallen."

St. Cloud Seeks Municipalities League Convention in 1931

Duluth, Minn., June 13.—(U.P.)—St. Cloud's delegation to the seventeenth annual convention of the League of Minnesota Municipalities today made its last efforts to obtain the 1931 convention for their city.

With the support of Duluth officials who received the aid of St. Cloud at Austin when the present convention site was selected, the Granite City delegation predicted today that they probably would obtain next year's convention in the business session late today.

Mayor William F. Kunze, Minneapolis, and Mayor Gerald J. Bundie, St. Paul, spoke this morning on problems in which Minnesota municipalities have a common interest. An open discussion of many municipal difficulties concluded the session.

RAILROAD MERGER PROBLEM IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington, June 13.—(U.P.)—The senate interstate commerce committee ordered a favorable report today on the Citizens resolution to authorize it to make an investigation of the railroad merger problem during the coming recess.

The resolution authorizes an appropriation of $5,000 for a study of consolidation and unification of railroad properties and their effect upon the public interest.

KING CAROL II ASKS MANIU TO FORM CABINET

EFFORTS TOWARD RECONCILIATION WITH FORMER WIFE
NEARER SUCCESS

KING ANXIOUS TO COMPLETE RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE GOVERNMENT

Bucharest, Roumania, June 13.—(U.P.)—King Carol II, whose efforts towards reconciliation with his former wife Helene appeared nearer success today, moved to complete re-organization of the government by again commissioning Dr. Julius Maniu to form a cabinet.

Dr. Maniu, former premier and leader of the peasants party, accepted. It was presumed that his previous objections to placing a favorite of the new king in the cabinet had been adjusted.

Carol had been striving since Monday to appoint some head of his first government. Maniu accepted the king's mandate to form a government several days ago, but when Carol asked that M. Manolescu, who helped greatly in returning Carol to Roumania, be made minister of finance, Maniu objected.

General Presan, aged military leader, next accepted after protesting, but when Vintila Bratianu, fiery leader of the liberal party and ardent opponent of Carol, refused a post in a Presan cabinet, the general likewise refused.

The domestic problems which have troubled King Carol since his return to his throne from an exile in France appeared also to be vanishing with the diplomatic dowager queen, Marie, at her son's side for the first time since he ascended the throne.

Queen Marie came home to an affectionate welcome yesterday evening, and scarcely had she been escorted to Cotroceni Palace than there were manifestations that a concerted effort was being made to win over Princess Helene, who so far has refused a reconciliation with the prince and an annulment of the divorce she was granted when he deserted her for Mme. Magda Lupescu.

One such manifestation was in the form of a proclamation, signed by the king, declaring Princess Helene had the right to call herself queen if she wished.

Queen Marie is known to be deeply anxious for a reconciliation between her son and his wife. Such a reconciliation is desirable not only for the sake of the throne, but chiefly for the sake of the young Crown Prince Michael.

If Helene persists in her refusal, Roumanian common law gives Michael to his father, removing him from any control of his mother.

'RESULT PROVES NOTHING,' SAYS CARPENTIER

Paris, June 13.—(U.P.)—Georges Carpentier, French heavyweight boxer who once fought Jack Dempsey for the world's title, said of the Schmeling-Sharkey fight:

"The result doesn't prove anything. I remember that Jack Sharkey dominated in the first rounds of his fight with Jack Dempsey, but later lost. Schmeling might have overcome his disadvantage, but Sharkey undoubtedly had the German in a bad position. For the present, I have no plans, but I don't know what might happen. Don't question me on the question of returning to the ring to fight Schmeling."

'BLACK' MARTIN TO SEE ATTORNEY

Martin Nelson, Duluth, former coal wagon driver here and known to many as "Black" Martin was uncertain of the procedure of law when arraigned in municipal court this afternoon on the charge of issuing checks without funds.

His case was continued by Judge J. H. Warner to tomorrow morning to permit him to see an attorney.

Nelson is charged with writing checks on a Duluth bank without having funds in account there to meet them.

3 Bandits Put Reverse English on Attempt to Capture Then, Kidnap Merchant and Deputy

THREATEN THEIR WOULD-BE CAPTORS WITH SUDDEN DEATH

COATES STATION, DAKOTA COUNTY, SCENE OF ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

ALARM ON THE CASH REGISTER AWAKENS MERCHANT, WHO CALLS OFFICER

St. Paul, Minn., June 13.—(U.P.)—Three bandits today put reverse English on an attempt to capture them when they kidnaped a merchant and a deputy sheriff, threatened the would-be captors with death and drove off in the merchant's car.

M. N. Gores, merchant at Coates Station, Dakota county, was awakened today by an alarm attached to his cash register. Gores called Deputy Sheriff Walter Franzmeier and they set out to hunt the bandits who had been frightened away by the alarm.

Outside the town, the two-man posse found the bandits working over their stalled car. Gores and Franzmeier grappled with the men, but were overpowered. One of the bandits pulled a gun and forced the pair into the back seat of Gores' car.

The bandits then drove to a secluded spot near South St. Paul.

"You guys stay here quietly for an hour or you will be bumped off," one man said.

The kidnapers then sped away in their pursuers' car.

The men made their way to a farm house and called Twin City police who immediately started search for the kidnaping trio.

DRIVES 185 MILES TO FIND MEET OFF

Not Perturbed, Agder Laget Member, Says He Is Going to Enjoy Fishing Here

S. B. Gunderson of Clarkfield, Minn., came to Brainerd today a distance of 185 miles to learn that the Agder Laget Norwegian reunion scheduled to have been held here tomorrow and Sunday had been called off in favor of Minneapolis.

Goodnaturedly he learned of the change in locations of the reunion.

"Well, I don't believe I will go to Minneapolis. I was down there last week. I think I will stay around here for tomorrow and do some fishing in some of your lakes that I hear so much about," he said.

In response to a notice published in the Normande of Fargo that the Agder laget was to meet in Brainerd on June 13, 14 and 15, S. B. Gunderson of Clarkfield, Minn., and T. O. Skaar and Ole Torkildson of Fargo, N. D., came today to attend the gathering.

The program committee is composed of Torvald Rodjord of Luverne, Mr. Tuffland of New Ulm and T. Gjornon of Fergus Falls.

COACH KASCH TAKES GRANITE CITY POST

Accepts Position of Athletic Director and Coach at St. Cloud Tech-High

RESIGNS FROM B. H. S.

Has Given Brainerd District Basketball and Track and Field Championships

Warren E. Kasch, popular coach and instructor at the Brainerd high school for the past three years, will leave the helm of Brainerd sports.

Mr. Kasch has resigned from the Brainerd high staff to accept the position of athletic director and coach for the St. Cloud Tech-High.

A successor will be considered by the Brainerd Board of Education at its next meeting.

In accepting the new position Coach Kasch will be in complete charge of the physical educational program at the Granite City school involving the junior high as well as the senior high. He will be empowered to appoint such assistants as he deems necessary.

Coach Kasch's record here has been enviable and the school as well as the citizenry who watched him bring Brainerd high school teams to victory will regret his departure. His first year here was marked with a district basketball championship when he brought a comparatively "green" team to the front rank. The school won the district basketball championship that season, defeating its old rivals, the Crosby-Ironton high school. Previously in the season Kasch built up a strong football team, finishing second. Next spring found him drilling a large field of track and field men which had the ultimate result this year by winning the Third Invitational Aitkin meet and the District meet.

Two years ago Coach Kasch was handicapped by the lack of a gymnasium caused by the burning of the Brainerd high school. Despite this his basketball team finished in second place, losing to C-I. Last year marked another successful season in football and basketball. The gridders finished in second place and the cagers lost in overtime play to Crosby-Ironton in the final game for the district championship.

SCHOOL FIRE IN KHARKOV HAS 28 DEATH TOLL

Moscow, June 13.—(U.P.)—A school fire in Kharkov during the showing of a motion picture on Wednesday was reported today. Twenty-eight children died and many were injured.

AIRPLANE SEASON NOW IN FULL SWING

Planes from Oklahoma and Missouri Land at the Rosko Airport Last Night and Today

FLIERS GOING FISHING

Northern States Power Company Tri-Motor Is Expected From Chicago Soon

The airplane season is on in full swing and two brand new sparkling planes landed at the Rosko airport, the one from Missouri arriving late last night and the Oklahoma plane early this morning.

The Oklahoma plane gave full credit to the fine qualities of the Rosko field and said he landed like a feather which is more than he could say for the St. Paul airport.

Both flying parties left this morning for fishing trips at nearby lakes and expect to stay a week or more. Their planes are staked down at the flying field where a caretaker is in charge.

Some time early next week a large plane, possibly a tri-motor, is coming from Chicago, the plane belonging to the Northern States Power Company.

Next Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21, the entire membership of the Winnipeg Air Club will fly to Brainerd and at the airport will be met by the Chamber of Commerce automobiles to be taken to Breezy Point for the resort opening. In addition to the Canadians there will also be the St. Paul flying clubs, some of whom may come in a tri-motor similar to the ones flying the St. Paul-Rochester air route.

With the other fliers expected, there may be a fleet of 30 planes at the airport by June 22.

Aviation gasoline and oil have been established at the airport. Two garages, rest rooms, caretaker's house, electric light, telephone, spring water, new "sock" etc., are some of the conveniences put in. Graders and tractors this season have put the field in wonderful shape.

'Flying Governor' Kohler Narrowly Escapes Injury

Kohler, Wis., June 13.—(U.P.)—Walter J. Kohler, "flying governor" of Wisconsin, and two companions narrowly escaped injury today when a wheel locked on the governor's airplane as it ran for a takeoff and nosed over.

Neither the governor nor his companions, Col. R. J. Smith, his secretary, and Pilot Melvin Thompson, was injured.

PASSENGERS KEPT THEIR HEADS IN THE DISASTER

THEY RATHER THAN THE CREW
SAVED FAIRFAX STEAMER
FROM DESTRUCTION

MINNEAPOLIS MAN DESCRIBES ANTICS OF PANIC STRICKEN NEGRO CREW

Boston, June 13.—Passengers rather than the crew were credited today with having saved the steamer Fairfax from destruction by fire after the collision with the tanker Pinthis. The tragedy took a toll of 47 lives.

Describing the antics of panic-stricken negro members of the crew, Sergeant Harry E. Kipp of Minneapolis, a marine who was a passenger on the Fairfax, voiced the belief that only cool heads among the passengers prevented a much greater death toll.

The witness expressed the opinion that perhaps as many as 25 lives were needlessly lost when that number of passengers and seamen plunged overboard. Contrary to earlier reports in which those who leaped into the sea were pictured as living torches, Sergeant Kipp stated that the clothing of those he saw plunge overboard did not catch fire.

Dickerson N. Hoover, chief of the steamboat inspection service, arrived from Washington today. Captain Chas. M. Lyons of the steamboat inspection service asked Kipp to give his version of the tragic collision.

"The first notice I had was when I felt the shock while in my stateroom," the witness recounted. "I put on my clothes and left the stateroom within a minute. It was so hot I couldn't go out the nearest exit on the starboard side."

Far down on the stern, he said, he caught distant glimpses of passengers in an unlaunched Fairfax lifeboat. He testified he saw eight or nine members of the steamer's crew whom he believed to be negroes.

He estimated that the fire aboard the Fairfax was controlled within 30 minutes.

RESERVE PARKING FOR DELEGATES

Swedish Singers May Park Cars on North Side of Front to Register at Ransford

Only Formal Appearance of Singers Scheduled in Evening at High School

As a courtesy to delegates who will attend the Northwest Division of American Union of Swedish Singers convention here Saturday and Sunday, motorists are requested by Chief of Police Thomas Templeton to not park on the north side of Front street between Fifth and Sixth streets tomorrow up to 1 p. m.

The street is desired for the parking of the delegates cars that they might register at the Ransford hotel where hotel headquarters have been established.

Details for the convention which is expected to bring 1,500 people to Brainerd and a chorus of 400 male voices were near complete today.

The grand concert, the only formal appearance of the singers, will be held at the Washington high school tomorrow evening.

Convention sessions will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

A tour of the lake region is planned for Sunday morning with a dinner and program of sports at Lum Park in the afternoon.

An orchestra of 30 pieces with Miss Effie Drexler, director, will play at the high school Saturday evening while the Legion Auxiliary band will play at Lum Park Sunday.

The convention is being sponsored by the Brainerd Swedish Glee club. The first delegates arriving formed a party of 17 from Des Moines, Iowa. Professor Paul Bloom, director in chief of the Center City delegation, arrived this afternoon.

JULY WHEAT FALLS TO A NEW LOW

Chicago, June 13.—(U.P.)—July wheat fell to a new low for the crop today when it sold on the board of trade for $1.00 1/2.

Persistent commission house selling with lack of support was the main cause for the weakness.

Oats deliveries reached new lows about the same time and were a contributing factor to the general bearish sentiment.

HAPPY DAYS HERE AGAIN FOR HOBOES OF BELOIT, WIS.

Beloit, Wis., June 13.—(U.P.)—Happy days are here again for inhabitants of "The Judges," popular hobo resort south of Beloit—and their enemy, "the law," was responsible. South Beloit police officers in disposing of 450 gallons of alcohol merely punched holes in the cans before throwing them into the river. The cans, floating past the camp, attracted attention and investigation by the hobo fraternity. The result was an extended pre-prohibition spree.

MAJOR SEGRAVES FATALLY INJURED, SPEEDBOAT DIVES

ENGLISHMAN TRAVELED OVER 100 MILES AN HOUR AT WINDERMERE

BOAT DIVES LIKE BULLET, OC- CUPANTS HURTLING INTO THE WATER

Windermere, England, June 13.—(U.P.)—Major Sir Henry Segraves' speed boat, Miss England, hurtling over the water of Lake Windermere at more than 100 miles an hour for a new world speed record, suddenly dove like a bullet today, hurtling her crew of three into the water, injuring Segraves fatally.

Segrave died shortly after 5 P. M. Segrave was one of the most famous automobile and motor boat speed drivers in the world, noted for his skill and daring. He already held the world automobile record of 231 miles an hour, made in Florida and shortly before the accident had set a new world motorboat record with an average of 98.76 miles an hour.

Sir Henry and his mechanic, E. Willcocks, were taken out of the water in a daring rescue by a man and woman spectator. The other mechanic, E. Halliwell, never appeared above the surface again.

Hours later, Halliwell's body was recovered from the lake by searchers.

At the hospital here, Segrave was found to have both arms and a rib broken and died from his injuries. Willcocks had a broken thigh.

The speed record was made on two runs which preceded the third and fatal one. The official time for the first run was 96.41 miles an hour and for the second, 100.11. The previous record was held by the American, Gar Wood, at 93.4 miles an hour.

Segrave was estimated to have been going well above 100 miles an hour on the third run when the boat, roaring over the water with a deafening noise, suddenly disappeared in a great shower of water.

Hundreds of spectators saw the accident and all manner of craft hurried to the scene. But it remained for a spectator, named King, to make the first gallant attempt at rescue. King dove into the water fully clothed and brought up Segrave. A woman helped them onto a boat and then fainted.

The cause of the accident was not determined. Miss England II had a gaping hole in the bottom. It was believed either she had struck a piece of driftwood or one of the whirling propellers broke and crashed through the hull.

HEARD FOR STATE
IN HANKS' TRIAL

MILLE LACS INDIAN IS CHARGED WITH A TRIPLE SLAYING

IF FOUND GUILTY HE FACES A SENTENCE TO HANGING

Duluth, Minn., June 13.—(U.P.)—Assistant U. S. Attorney George A. Halsey expects to complete the parade of prosecution witnesses in the trial of William Taylor Hanks today, who is being defended by Attorney Hilding Swanson, of Swanson, Swanson and Swanson of Brainerd.

Hanks, a Mille Lacs reservation Indian and world war veteran, is on trial on charges of first degree murder. If convicted in federal court without a recommendation of mercy, he faces sentence to hanging, the first here within more than 20 years.

Between 10 and 15 witnesses completed the prosecution's story of how Hanks killed his wife, his foster son and his wife's grandfather. Several of them were Indians from the Mille Lacs reservation who testified through an interpreter. They said that Hanks had been drinking during the afternoon before the slayings.

VOTE ON MEASURE WAS 44 TO 42, SAME AS FORECAST

CONTAINS INCREASED DUTIES ON SUGAR, SHOES, BUTTER,
CEMENTS, LUMBER

NOW GOES TO HOUSE WHERE PASSAGE IS SCHEDULED TOMORROW

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 13.—The Smoot-Hawley bill raising the tariff on imports $107,000,000 a year or more was passed in final form by the senate today, a year and a half after it began its legislative career. The vote was 44 to 42.

Containing increased duties on sugar, shoes, butter, cements, lumber and bricks among many others, the measure now goes to the house where passage is scheduled tomorrow.

The prospects are it will become a law next week by President Hoover's signature.

Designed originally to equalize the tariff disadvantages of agriculture with those of industry, the measure lost the almost unanimous support of the senate farm group on the final roll call. The defeated coalition of farm republicans and democrats turned overwhelmingly against the measure now that the debenture system of farm relief is omitted. They took the position the increased duties on agriculture will be ineffective while the upward adjustment of many industrial rates will only add further to the burdens of the farmers.

The votes of the administration republican group and a few democrats furnished the small majority for the measure which was one of the most controversial in history.

Some of the bill's supporters, notably Senators Reed and Grundy, republican protectionists from Pennsylvania, cast their votes with public misgiving about the benefits of the measure. Taking exactly the opposite position of the farm groups they say the food stuffs tariffs are too high and the industrial rates insufficiently adjusted to protect American manufacturers fully against foreign competition.

Like others who voted for the bill, they made clear they were supporting it largely for expediency, feeling business would be better with the question definitely settled.

The final vote came upon the technical parliamentary question of adopting the conference report which contains the latest changes made by house and senate conferees in adjusting the differences in the measures originally passed by both houses. Rejection of this report would have sent the bill again to conference for further adjustments to make it acceptable to a majority of the senate.

There is no doubt but that a more substantial majority will be piled up in favor of the measure when a similar vote is taken in the house tomorrow. There is likewise every reason to expect Mr. Hoover will sign the measure. His friends have indicated he feels substantially the same way about the measure as Reed and Grundy.

Washington, June 13.—The Smoot-Hawley tariff bill which raises existing import duties generally from six to 20 per cent higher than they have ever been before is expected to pass the senate finally at 2 P. M. today by a majority of two or more votes.

If it is passed as anticipated, the 18-month-old measure then will go to the house where a more decisive vote of ratification is expected tomorrow.

By the middle of next week it should be signed or vetoed by President Hoover and, if approved, it will become a law at midnight after it is signed.

This is the swift conclusion which the administration leaders are planning to administer to the measure which has caused more debate in congress than any legislation of recent years.

The conclusion, however, will end only the bill itself. It has aroused a political issue which republicans and democrats of both houses of congress intend to take to their electorate in the coming November congressional elections.

The senate has been the only stumbling block in the long and arduous path of the measure. There seems now to be no doubt of the outcome there.

Announcement of the reluctant support of Senators Reed and Grundy, republicans, Pennsylvania, makes it almost certain that the bill will pass that body by a margin of two or more votes. Counting absentees, the measure appears to be a minimum of 49 to 47 in favor of the bill. There are likely to be about 12 or 14 absentees so the final vote anticipated is 43 to 41 or 42 to 40.

Many of the leading supporters of the measure appear to share the pessimistic views of Reed and Grundy regarding its merits. It is said reliably that while it is a bill which will please no one, that while its rates were fixed by the usual congressional method of log-rolling and political dealing, it is best to sign it and get it out of the way. They all place it

AGED MAN PARALYZED FOR LIFE BY INJURY

Elmer Houze, 68, Carpenter Living in West Brainerd Suffers With Fractured Spine

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Car Rolls Over Embankment North of Pillager When He Loses Control of Vehicle

Elmer Houze, 68 year old West Brainerd carpenter, must go through the remainder of his life paralyzed from his hips down.

Doctors have been doing all they can for him but his chances for recovery of his health are slim.

Houze has been a patient in the St. Joseph's hospital here since June 7. He was taken in at 11:30 p. m. suffering with a fractured spine, four fractured ribs and a fractured nose as a result of a car accident earlier in the evening north of Pillager.

The elderly man was hurt when he lost control of his car in loose sand on a hill. The vehicle went off the road and rolled over an embankment.

Mrs. Alice Zimmerman of Pillager friend of the Houze's suffered lacerations of the scalp. She was taken to Hall's hospital in Northeast Brainerd and returned to her home last Sunday. Her condition is reported not serious.

Creating Business

THERE may be depressions of various kinds, but no community should ever give up its spirit of optimism, its desire to better things and to always work for improvement of any kind.

Business moves in cycles. It has its ups and downs, its era of activity and its period of slack times. No activity carried by man can ever be conducted at constant high speed pressure. Any machine knows that pumps or engines should never be run at constant maximum. If you crowd them to the limit, they will wear out.

So, in nature, there is steady growth and no violent exertion. Business maintained on an even keel will gain its reward.

We have here in the Brainerd Lake country a diversity of things contributing to the business life of the community. Linked with our manufacturing and other town work is the growing importance of the dairying, poultry and farming interests in Brainerd territory supplemented by the increasingly valuable tourist business which supplies a cash market.

By not keeping its whole egg supply in one basket, Brainerd because of its various contributing business feeders, is able to keep on an even keel.

The town and county should continue with increasing vigor construction and road work of all kinds. Now is the time for all this kind of work. Road and building material is at a reasonable figure. Labor is anxious for employment.

Citizens who are able should not neglect to make improvements at their homes in town or at the lake. Giving employment to even one man aids the worker and his family and sets in motion a new wave of business.

In spite of the alleged depression on the west and east coasts of America and adjoining territory, the Mississippi valley area has been slow to give ground and is in better shape so far as all of its people are concerned. It is not all traceable to natural conditions, but due to the fact that our area has little if any inflation to live down and regret and its people are optimistic, self reliant and no stock market rainbow chasers.

Here in the Brainerd territory there is business and it can be secured by intelligent effort. Consistent advertising helps to broaden our field of merchandising. The 16-page Brainerd Daily Dispatch issue of yesterday which was given increased circulation acts as business builder of this community.

SHEIK'S WIFE
BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XLVIII.

THAT barometer of Ken's moods, his work, lagged and dropped far down. He refused stubbornly to do any more of the sketchy drawings and this in the very midst of a serial he was illustrating for "Artistry."

"But you can't let them down this way," Eve told him. "Half the story has run with that type of picture—why, it isn't ethical, Ken."

"Ethical for me to be myself. Never wanted to do goofy stuff. Wouldn't have got caught with it if you hadn't butted in."

She was angry. "You're an appreciative critter after I saved the contract for you. Go your own way after this. If you think it's any fun keeping you down to earth!"

He was instantly contrite, rushing over to put his arms around her, begging her to forgive him.

"Sweet Eve—what gets into me I don't know. You're wonderful, too good for a selfish beast. Ah, don't be mad with your old man."

Her heart would melt she would love him with a passion which took no thought of herself, her rights.

He began to experiment with idealistic little paintings. They might lead to something sometime but no magazine would use them as they were. This was Lila Allan's influence bearing fruit. And when he entrusted them to Eve to be mailed she watched her chance, hid them away and put in their place some of the sketches he already had finished.

Lila had convinced him that he was too good for the work he was doing—the work everybody wanted. He babbled about commercialism, talked of the great masters who starved in poverty and went without recognition till long after death.

Nonsense—wild, crazy nonsense for a young fellow with a living to make, one who already had tasted success!

Well, she couldn't let him go while he was in this frame of mind. If she were to break with Ken it would have to be at a time when he was on his feet, not heading straight for failure. She would have to stand by through this, no matter how it crushed her.

She would coax him into the studio, hover about making little suggestions, praising, flattering, bullying. She would bring him steaming cups of coffee; fly to the telephone when it rang. Sometimes the dulcet drawl of Lila would come over the wire.

"May I speak to Kenneth? I've a suggestion about the matter we were speaking of yesterday. Sorry to interrupt, but he'll understand."

"Oh, I'm so sorry, Miss Allan." Eve would try to make her tone cordial and very regretful. "You see he's busy now. Could I take the message?"

"No-o-o—"

"Well, I'll have him call you when he stops for lunch. He's behind schedule, you know—hurrying to make up—"

A cold little silence before Lila said good-bye.

When Eve told him about the call he would fly to the phone, waste a precious half hour whispering in an eager, intimate way. And Eve soon understood that this flirtation was different from any of the others. It was much more serious; not the play affair Fifi had made hers nor the shallow thing Puss Southwick's had been.

Lila promised to pose for a series of covers just as Eve knew she would. She came to the bungalow for this, always late, took a long time preparing herself before the studio mirror. But Ken showed no impatience, none of the fuming irritation he exhibited when Eve held him up.

And he gave a great deal of time to rest periods. Eve would hear them talking, laughing together, Lila's deep, intimate voice with Ken's eager tone.

Ken took to riding home with Lila in the green roadster when she left in the early fall dusk. He explained somewhat sheepishly that he needed exercise; it cleared his head, the walk back from Hilltop House. And Eve made no answer, keeping her gaze down.

But after this she found excuses for staying away when Lila invited them to tea. It saved her something of humiliation since she sat alone and neglected through these tea parties, drawing a chance remark occasionally, patronizing half irritated on the part of Ken.

She would go over to Stony Wall when Ken left for Hilltop House, light the candles in the old pewter candle stands she had brought from Lakeview, spend long hours filled with peace if not happiness.

She had begun a new novel which she called "Other Women" and while Eve had no illusions about her writing ability, this attempt at putting down the story of a neglected wife took up her thought, gave her the feeling that there was a place in the world for her after all.

Christmas came and went with none of the old-fashioned celebration so dear to Eve's heart. And then Lila Allan invited everybody to a week-end houseparty for New Years which fell upon Sunday. It would begin with a fancy dress ball Saturday night and they could sleep late if they wished next morning, sauntering down to breakfast and trailing off home whenever fancy dictated.

The tribe was stirred to excitement. Costumes were prepared, high revelry anticipated. From Ken Eve learned that Lila had laid in a supply of champagne, gin straight from Montreal, Scotch smuggled up from a high-priced rum-running outfit on Long Island.

Her spirit quailed before the coming din; never had she felt so weary, so little inclined toward gaiety.

Yet Ken took the keenest interest in her costume and this was heartening. He designed it for her, taking time from his work to sketch and paint a little gypsy figure with gold brown eyes and red hair. It would be orange and she would wear a bright scarf over her head and gold loops at her ears.

"You'll be a knockout, red. Prettiest thing in seven counties. What Marks calls a wow."

"You think so, Ken? You do think so?" Tears stung her eyes; she had to turn away quickly.

Ken was to go as a buccaneer and a very handsome pirate he made with long, floppy-topped boots, a wide hat sweeping up from his merry eyes, a dashing sword. She felt a thrill of the old pride in him walking down the long ballroom of Hilltop House, with Nory, become a droll and mischievous monk, at her other side.

A motley assortment of Juliettes, Purrots, Teddys, Highlanders, French peasant girls, Mandarins, Queen Elizabeths all about.

Lila had got herself up as Cleopatra in a few yards of chiffon and a great many jewels and she languished on a pillow-covered divan nearly all evening, hardly ever dancing, keeping Ken at her side. Toward midnight when the tide of wine had washed up audacious recklessness Eve overheard Cleopatra murmuring to the buccaneer.

"Marriage should hold only so long as it does not smother individuality. A lot of silly notions about marriage—empty sentiment. All right for ordinary folk. Genius needs something more—understanding."

Eve left the nook behind the divan, hurried away before Ken could answer. She was afraid to listen to that—afraid of what he might say.

She stumbled blindly into the dressing room, stood other shakily, a gay little gypsy turned tragic. She never knew how it happened that Nory found her.

"Nory—please—I want to go home. If you'd take me home, Nory—"

He drew her further into the room, stood looking down at her, all the twinkling gone from his face. "You think that's best, Eve? Better to run away?" "Nory, I can't stand it! Not this—not again!" Her reserve was vanished now; she was beside herself with misery, knowing only that he understood.

He put his hands on her shoulders, spoke slowly, very solemnly. "Little Eve. He loves you, you know. No question of this. He's a spoiled child. If you could make him see that he's grown up—"

"I've tried," she said on a caught sob. "Oh, I have tried! Played the game—it's what they expect of you, here. I—I'm afraid I'm not much of a success, Nory. It's—I suppose it's because I love him too much. Tried everything, Nory—"

He bent down, spoke with his lips almost against her hair. "Not everything, dear little child. I want you to be happy—you believe this? That your happiness is dear to me? Listen, Eve—"

To Be Continued Monday.

Having served many community organizations and, as Mayor of the City of Brainerd for eight years, I have given effort in public service without thought of compensation. The experience I have had as Mayor, and some experience as a police officer, prompts me in the belief that I can serve as Sheriff to your satisfaction. If elected, I assure you I will continue to serve conscientiously.

I did not seek the office I have held, but served because I believed that it was the wish of the citizens of this city. I now seek an office, and one in which I believe I can serve efficiently.

I hope my candidacy will receive your earnest consideration.

SCHMELING WINS CHAMPIONSHIP ON FOUL IN FOURTH ROUND

FISTIC WORLD HAS NEW KING SHARKEY LOSES

THE GERMAN HAD BEEN A BADLY BEATEN FIGHTER UNTIL FOLLY BLOW LANDED

BLOW HEADED ABOVE BELT LANDED IN SCHMELING'S GROIN WHEN HE SAGGED

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 13.—(U.P.)—The fistic world has a new heavyweight champion today, but the decision which brought that honor to Max Schmeling, the fortunate youth of Germany, still ripples in the breasts of some 80,000 spectators who witnessed the unfortunate ending to the battle for the title.

With but six seconds left to go in the fourth round of last night's spectacular fight in Yankee stadium, Jack Sharkey, who had outclassed Schmeling in every way, whipped home a terrific left hook which landed below Max's belt.

The German, a badly beaten fighter until that moment, went down helpless and incapacitated, and after an inexcusable delay and amidst scene of tremendous confusion, Referee Jimmy Crowley awarded the fight and the championship to Schmeling.

No other decision was possible, since the only judge in a position to see where that swishing left hook landed declared it a palpable foul.

The better man—Jack Sharkey—once more fell victim to the ill-fortune which has dogged his footsteps across the years in which he has sought the heavyweight title.

Max Schmeling is the new champion of the world, but champion by virtue of the same good luck which has marked his career. No one amongst the vast throng which packed every nook and cranny of the towering Yankee stadium last night left with any doubt that Jack Sharkey was the better man.

For three rounds, the Bostonian, proud of his chance to represent the United States in an international bout of such importance, trained to the minute, and fighting the greatest fight of his career, toyed with the young man of the Rhineland. In the third round, Schmeling was all but out on his feet, a battered and beaten victim of a worthy successor to the long line of heavyweight champions from John L. Sullivan down through Gene Tunney.

Five minutes later, after the confusion caused by the indecision of the referee, the clamor of seconds and managers and upon the word of a lone judge, Harold Barnes, it was Max Schmeling instead of Jack Sharkey who was declared champion of the world.

Never before in prize ring history has a heavyweight title been awarded on a foul. Yet in the final analysis, no other verdict was possible.

It happened this way. Sharkey, toward the end of the fourth round, whipped over a right to the jaw which sent Schmeling sagging against the ropes. As Max came off the ropes, the Bostonian started a long, low left swing from the knee. The blow, which would have landed well above the waist-line had Schmeling remained back on his heels, caught Max, who was stumbling forward into a clinch, flush in the groin.

Schmeling went down, grimacing with pain. Referee Crowley saw no foul, and proceeded to count up to "6", when the bell signalled the end of the round. Max's second carried him to his corner and worked over him frantically.

When the bell signalled the start of the fifth round, Sharkey, cool this time and with none of the hysteria which marked his performance under similar circumstances at Miami in his bout with Phil Scott, dashed across the ring.

Schmeling couldn't get up. His seconds remained around him. The count which would have been a signal for victory for Sharkey began. But before the knockdown time-keeper had beat out the measure with his little wooden hammer, Referee Crowley had come to a decision. On the word of one judge, the only one who claimed to have seen the blow land low, the arbiter awarded the fight to the German on a foul.

The ensuing pandemonium was somewhat less than might have been expected under the circumstances. Jack Sharkey, his hopes of a championship so richly deserved thus stripped from him, slumped in his seat. Tears streamed down his face. But he took it like a man, and a moment later assisted in the labored departure of Schmeling, the new champion, from the ring. The roar of the crowd was half in protest, half in satisfaction.

It was an ending to a championship bout distressing beyond any ones expectation. The referee and judges explained their positions, Crowley claiming he had no other course under the rules. Schmeling, examined by a boxing physician, bore evidence of having been fouled.

"I told Jack to keep his punches up. I will give him a return bout Schmeling said after the fight. But the German youth probably will be advised away from any such course by his handlers. On the form displayed last night, Sharkey is far the better man."

Schmeling will take the championship of the world to Germany, the first time it has left the country since Tommy Burns, a Canadian, born Noah Bruoso, skipped off to Australia back in 1906.

There will be a clamor for Jack Dempsey's return to the ring, the former champion having said that he would do so if Sharkey did not succeed in keeping the title in the United States, but Dempsey, on his own admission to the United Press today, is in no shape to fight, and probably never again will be.

As for Gene Tunney, the undefeated champion who lightly tossed aside the crown for which Schmeling and Sharkey fought, was a ringside spectator at last night's affair.

"I thought the blow was foul," said Gene, who incidentally was in no position to judge accurately. "Beyond that I have nothing to say except that I have retired from the ring for all time."

The ending to the Schmeling-Sharkey fight, which saw the Bostonian who outweighed his opponent 197 to 188 pounds, lose on an unintentional foul, marks the third of the last four heavyweight contests of importance which have come to an unsatisfactory finish.

There was the Sharkey-Dempsey fight, back in 1927, in which the Bostonian, struck low, turned his head to discuss the matter with the referee and received the coup de grace flush on the chin. Then there was the famous affair of the "long count" at Chicago, later that year.

But although fight fans will be dissatisfied with this latest affair for many a day, Max Schmeling is the acknowledged champion of the world, richer by $175,000 as a result of last night's bout, he and Sharkey both receiving 25 per cent of a $700,000 gate, and in a position to cash in upon the rich awards that go with the title.

PENNEY TEAM CAPS BRAINO BOTTLERS

HANG UP NINTH STRAIGHT VICTORY AND KEEP GRIP ON LEAGUE LEAD

The J. C. Penney kittenball team hung up its ninth straight victory last night at the expense of the Brainerd Bottling Works team by a score of 17-1. The victory kept the Penney team well out in front in the league standing.

Rafodil, Swanson and Foster worked on the mound for Penneys instead of their customary hurler, "Cannonball" Werner. Crust pitched for the Bottlers and was hit freely.

MAX SCHMELING IS TENTH HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING CHAMPION

New York, June 13.—(U.P.)—Max Schmeling is the tenth boxer to win recognition as world heavyweight champion since the title was established under the Marquis of Queensbury rules in 1890.

John L. Sullivan was the last champion under the London prize ring rules with bare fists and became the first heavyweight champion when gloves were introduced.

The roll of champions:
1890-1892—John L. Sullivan.
1892-1898—James J. Corbett.
1898-1899—Bob Fitzsimmons.
1898-1906—James J. Jeffries.
1906-1908—Tommy Burns.
1908-1915—Jack Johnson.
1915-1919—Jess Willard.
1919-1926—Jack Dempsey.
1926-1928—Gene Tunney.
1928-1930—Title vacant.
1930-?—Max Schmeling.

KING TUT-SULLIVAN BOUT SET FOR TONIGHT

St. Paul, June 13.—(U.P.)—The King Tut-Sullivan bout, rained out last night, will be fought tonight despite threats by rival managers to cancel the fight when they could not agree on Sullivan's weight.

The difference was settled when Leo Levitt and Ernie Fliegel, managers of Tut, agreed to let Sullivan weigh in today at 149 pounds. Sullivan will probably have an advantage of about eight pounds over Tut. The King weighed in yesterday at 2 p. m. at 142 pounds while Sullivan made 148.

DISAGREES WITH REFEREE IN THE TITULAR FIGHT

SAYS SHARKEY SHOULD HAVE BEEN WINNER BY KNOCKOUT AT START OF 5TH

SCHMELING HAD REFUSED TO ANSWER BELL AT OPENING OF 5TH ROUND

New York, June 13.—(U.P.)—William Muldoon, dean of the New York state athletic commission and co-donor of the Tunney-Muldoon heavyweight championship trophy, disagreed today with the almost unanimous opinion that Max Schmeling was fouled by Jack Sharkey in their titular bout at Yankee Stadium last night.

"I have to contradict all these young fellows, but in my opinion Sharkey should have been declared the winner by a knockout when Schmeling refused to answer the bell for the fifth round," the 85-year-old boxing czar told the United Press.

"The disputed blow, as I saw it, was a terrific left hook which landed just below the navel and was perfectly fair. These physicians' reports don't mean a thing. Signs of a foul blow would not be evident in a physical examination for several hours."

Gene Tunney, the other donor of the championship trophy, said he thought the blow was foul, and Dr. William Walker, official commission physician, who examined Schmeling after the bout, declared he found a distinct spasm of the left side of Schmeling's serotum, indicating a recent blow. The physician said that "Schmeling could not produce this condition unless he was hit low."

Opinions of newspaper men who viewed the bout from the ringside, follow:

Frank Getty, United Press: "I was not in position to see exactly where the blow in question landed, but Schmeling is too good a sportsman to have been faking, and obviously was fouled. Sharkey was winning all the way, and was most unfortunate to have landed this unintentional low blow."

Edward Neil, Associated Press: "Unquestionably foul and hard enough to incapacitate the German."

Grantland Rice, N. A. N. A.: "It was a foul and, although unintentional, had to be penalized."

Jim Dawson, New York Times: "The punch was unquestionably foul. I have no hesitancy in saying it was accidental, but I do not believe that Schmeling jumped into it, as claimed by Sharkey."

Frank McCracken, Philadelphia Public Ledger: "I don't think the blow was low. Even if it was, Schmeling should have continued."

Paul Gallico, New York Daily News: "Unquestionably foul."

Damon Runyan, New York American: "Any argument that the blow was not a foul is absolutely silly. It landed in the crotch and the follow through almost lifted Schmeling off his feet."

George Barton, Minneapolis Tribune: "I was not in position to see the punch, but I know Sharkey was winning up to that time. I've refereed bouts for 25 years and think if Schmeling was of real championship calibre he would have taken a rest and continued."

Ed Frayne, New York American: "The punch was foul but the decision was perfect and the best thing that could have happened for the boxing game."

W. A. Hamilton, Boston Herald: "I think that Sharkey aimed the blow fair but that Schmeling accidentally jumped into it, making it land low."

Jim Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Schmeling was hit low and could not continue."

Jack Kofoed, New York Post: "If it was foul, Schmeling deserved the verdict, but the hysterical manner in which Referee Crowley handled the situation ruined everything."

Mark Kelly, Los Angeles Examiner: "It was low."

D BALL FEATURE SCHEDULED FOR FATHER'S DAY

Brainerd kittenball fans are promised a treat on Father's Day, June 15, when the Great Northern team from St. Cloud meets the J. C. Penney kittenballers, city league leaders, in a feature contest at 2:30 p. m. at the baseball park.

The Granite City team has been playing fast ball this season and should prove to be some real opposition to the Penney team which has been sailing through the city league teams here like a comet.

DEMPSEY KEENLY DISAPPOINTED OVER RESULT OF FIGHT

Los Angeles, June 13.—(U.P.)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, while keenly disappointed that Jack Sharkey lost the fight with Max Schmeling last night, has not changed his mind about returning to the ring, he said today.

"I certainly was sorry to hear Sharkey declared a loser on a foul," Dempsey said. "I had hoped that a decision—preferably a knockout—would be reached."

Dempsey listened to the fight broadcast over radio. He said it was difficult to judge without being at the ringside, but that it seemed to him that Sharkey was ahead and beating Max during the first three rounds.

"I have no plans at present except to lie around for a couple of months while the scar of my recent operation for an abscess on my back heals completely," he said. "Then I might take up a bit of light training. I don't feel I would be ready for a fight for at least a year—in fact, I rather doubt if I ever will fight again. It's still up in the air."

FIGHT FANS IN GERMANY WILD

ENTHUSIASM KNOWS NO BOUNDS WHEN THEY HEAR OF VICTORY OF SCHMELING

Berlin, June 13.—(U.P.)—Fight fans throughout Germany went wild with enthusiasm early today as they learned of the victory of Max Schmeling over Jack Sharkey in New York last night.

The excitement throughout the country came to a climax as the story of the bout was heard broadcast round by round. Millions spent a sleepless night by their radios. The story of the fight began shortly after 3 A. M. central Europe time.

Schmeling's mother joined American fight fans in their disapproval of the ending of the championship fight. "Naturally, Max becoming champion makes this the happiest day of my life," Mrs. Schmeling told the United Press. "However, I would much rather that my son had won on his own merits, rather than through his opponent's misfortune."

Mrs. Schmeling's wept last night when she was informed by the United Press of her son's victory.

GLAD SCHMELING WON, SAYS SCOTT

Sanderstead, Eng., June 13.—(U.P.)—"I'm glad Schmeling won, and I will be glad to fight him for the world heavyweight championship," Phil Scott, England's foul-claiming heavyweight, told the United Press today.

"If justice had been done at Miami I would have won from Sharkey in the same manner, and the championship could have been definitely decided last night," said Scott. "As it is, Schmeling has no more claim than I have."

"I beat Sharkey on a foul and am entitled to the championship. Schmeling ran out of a bout with me, leaving America rather than fight."

ST. CLOUD MATRON HEADS W. C. T. U

Sixth District Elects Officers at Convention Which Closes Here This Afternoon

UNIONS GIVE REPORTS

Ten Years Not Long Enough to Change Customs of Thousand Years, Minister Says

Officers elected at this morning's session of the third annual convention of the Sixth District W. C. T. U. were: President—Mrs. E. E. Town, St. Cloud.

Vice President—Mrs. Alice May Stewart, Hines.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. J. W. Rickers, St. Cloud.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Lula Snell, Pine River.

Treasurer—Mrs. Nellie Emmerson, Staples.

This afternoon reports were heard from the different unions. Rev. N. P. Olmsted gave a short talk with the theme "How Slow Are God's Processes and How Impatient is Man." He touched on the different hindrances that come up in every work and man's impatience at them, but stated that oftentimes hindrances are helps, and this was especially true of the W. C. T. U. and its work.

Memorial services conducted by Mrs. Olds of St. Cloud were held this afternoon for Mrs. Mary Blake of Motley, formerly of Brainerd. Services were held at Motley this afternoon. "Sometimes We'll Understand" was read in concert by the members of the union.

The dedication of White Ribbon Recruits followed the devotionals this afternoon, little Margaret Zander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Zander being dedicated. Mrs. Sizer tying the white ribbon on her arm. Margaret then played a piano solo "Fluttering Snowflakes." Mrs. Zander gave a talk on "Scientific Temperance Work."

The president's message was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Town in which she spoke highly of the kindness and courtesy extended to the W. C. T. U. by the people of Brainerd. In her talk she compared the W. C. T. U. with an oak tree and the local unions to smaller branches or leaves. She stressed the importance of the local unions and their example in the community. Speaking of the great amount of work being accomplished by the members, she said over 10,000 pieces of temperance literature had been distributed in the last four months. "Eternal vigilance is necessary both for the future and the present generations," she said.

Rev. Harold Baldwin of St. Cloud in his talk yesterday afternoon used "If meat cause my brother to stumble I will eat no meat while the world stands" as his text. He spoke of the wet propaganda used against the 18th amendment and stated: "This would be just as logical used against dope, stealing, murder, rape, perjury and other evils." "There have always been evils," he said "and even before Moses time all laws were not observed, and ten years is not long enough to change customs of intoxication which have been for the past thousand years." "Alcohol is the parasite which breaks down one's efficiency," he said.

Mrs. Myra Griswold, secretary to Governor Christianson told of her work in his office during the years she has worked with him.

Herman Schroeder, representative from the federal prohibition administrative department of the 14th district spoke in place of S. B. Qvale who was unable to be present last evening. He spoke on the repeal of the 18th amendment, stating this was very hard, and almost out of the question.

Mrs. Josephine Sizer brought a message on "Lest We Forget." In commenting on the work accomplished in the past, she said: "I feel this is the dawning of a better day." The great economic value of prohibition was stressed by Mrs. Sizer.

In his address of welcome from the Brainerd schools, Prof. W. C. Cobb said in part that teachers today do not find the present situation as bad among school children as some people are lead to believe. "It is many times better under the 18th amendment," he said. The welcome from the local union was given by Mrs. A. C. Erickson. Mrs. Stuart of Tenstrike gave the response.

The convention adjourned late this afternoon.

Where 'Coon Makes Home

Home to the raccoon is a hollow tree, usually an elm. The 'coon enters by an opening in one of the big limbs or high up in the trunk. The hollow sometimes extends down to the roots, and when the tree is felled, the animals are found in the stump at the level of the ground. Three or four of the roly poly animals sometimes live together in the same tree.

GAMBLE HIT AS CRIME EPIDEMIC CONTINUES

Burglars Knowing "Ropes" Rob Store of $129 Hidden in Three Different Places

ROBBERY PROVES PUZZLING

Believe Robbers Laid in Wait in Store Until Officials Left

The crime epidemic in Brainerd continued again last night and after checking this morning Gamble Store officials found the company had been relieved of cash and currency in the amount of $129.

The robbery proved puzzling since there was no indication of any break-in. That the robbers knew "the ropes" was almost certain since they disturbed nothing in the store but going to three different places in the store where the money was hidden.

The getaway was brought about an escape through the back door.

Manager Al Hanson and Assistant Manager A. D. Robertson were in the store last night until 11 o'clock when they locked up, the store having closed to business since 6:30 o'clock. As was customary money which had been collected was placed in hiding places in the store. This custom has been followed since the store is without a safe.

One theory was advanced today that the burglars hid in the store until the officials left and on seeing where the money was hid grabbed it and left.

One money bag containing $114, hidden behind paint cans in the main part of the store, another bag containing $5 in pennies placed under the counter near the cash register and a third bag containing one ten dollar bill hidden in the backroom constituted the loot. There was no money in the cash register.

The investigation is being conducted under the supervision of Chief of Police Thomas Templeton.

LUM PARK STARTS SUMMER SEASON

Celebrations and Popular Dance Orchestras Booked; Bowery Dance Tomorrow

The Rhythm Aces of Fargo, six piece orchestra on tour, will play for a bowery dance at Lum Park tomorrow evening.

The band was so well received at

BANDITS HELD TO DISTRICT COURT

Waive Hearing in Municipal Court When Arraigned Court Room Packed

QUESTIONING CONTINUES

Earl Horn and Jack Carl Pollock Grilled Concerning Other Robberies

Earl Horn and Jack Carl Pollock who, according to County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan, have confessed holdups in this county were arraigned before Judge J. H. Warner in municipal court this afternoon charged with robbery in the first degree.

The charge read against them was that they used revolvers in holding up the Gustafson and Nelson store Tuesday evening and stealing $116.

The two also are accused of robbing the Folio Drug Co. at Crosby and the Wm. Wells restaurant at Pequot.

County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan said that state's evidence would be presented to the grand jury. He was not certain whether a special grand jury would be called or whether the matter will be continued to the fall term of district court.

Questioning continued today of the pair with reference to other robberies in this district.

Joe Gustafson who brought about the apprehension of the pair by running the bandit car over the curb on Third avenue after the robbery has identified the two as the bandits who held him up.

Gustafson received a reward of $25 yesterday from Mayor Frank E. Little's contingent fund for his plucky work in chasing the bandits. Unarmed, Gustafson, with a clerk in the store, Howard Storm, chased the bandit car down Third avenue and overtook them within three blocks. Despite a barrage of bullets Gustafson left his car and started after the bandits. The fact that the bandit gun jammed possibly saved his life.

Wm. Wells of Pequot was reported today to have identified Horn as one of the two bandits that robbed his restaurant. Crosby victims in the Folio Drug Co. holdup will view the bandits tomorrow morning.

The money stolen in the Brainerd store holdup was recovered when Horn told authorities he had cached it near the Salvation Army hut on Front street. The gun used by Horn was found near the fill. Pollock said he threw away his gun on his way home to Hackensack the night of the robbery.

The municipal court room was filled with spectators when the pair were arraigned.

CANDIDATES TO FILE EXPENSES SATURDAY

The statement must contain all expenses relative to the conducting of the campaign of the candidate, must be tabulated, totalled and sworn to.

HEARINGS JUNE 21 ON RUM MANUFACTURE

Three Arraigned After Capture of Large Liquor Plant at Fool Lake

Hearings will be conducted by U. S. Commissioner A. D. Polk here June 21 in the cases of Joe Bobnick, Rose Dumovich and Phillip Dumovich, charged with manufacture of liquor.

The three were arraigned yesterday afternoon and demanded hearings. They were charged with manufacture following the capture of a 50 gallon still in operation at Fool Lake, 110 gallons of moonshine and a total of 1,850 gallons of mash. The raid was made by Prohibition Agent Wm. Robbins of Detroit Lake and George Rardin, assistant to "Col." E. G. Boyd in the Indian Department.

To Attend Baptist Meeting

Rev. Edgar A. Valliant and Mr. and Mrs. George Tracy left this morning for Little Falls to attend the 70th annual meeting of the Northwestern Baptist Association. Mrs. Walter Murphy will be present at tomorrow's sessions and will take part in the Women's Missionary program tomorrow afternoon.

The banquet will be held at the Elks' hotel at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

SMOOT-HAWLEY TARIFF

BILL PASSES SENATE

on a ground of expediency rather than merit.

Reed gave expression to the general attitude of the leaders when he said that to defeat the pending conference report on the measure, or to veto it, would merely keep the tariff issue buzzing. Business wants the matter ended as soon as possible so plans for the future can be made, he said.

There recently has been little consideration of the rate of the measure which increases duties on such widely used commodities as sugar, shoes, lumber, cement, bricks, wool and hides. A hasty view of the increases provided in the bill may be gained from the following table of most important changes:

Smoot-Hawley existing bill	law
Common bricks	$1.25 per M free
Cement	6 cents CWT. free
Aluminum	4 cents lb. 5 cents
Pig iron	$12.12 1/2 per ton 75 cents
Lumber, soft	$1 per M ft. free
Sugar	2 cents lb. 1.76 cents
Sheep	$3 each $2
Butter	14 cents lb. 8 cents
Fish	2 cents lb. 1/2 cent
Lemons	2 1/2 cents 2 cents
Flaxseed	65 cents bu. 40 cents
Cattle	2 1/2-3 cents 1 1/2-2 cents
Long staple cotton	7 cents lb. free
Cotton, yard	5-32 pc 5-25pc
Wool	34 cents 31 cents
Dolls	90 pc 70 pc
Hides	10 pc free
Shoes	20 pc free

Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee says that these and the other increases in the bill fix a general levy on all imports of about 40.08 per cent as compared with 33.22 per cent under the existing law. He therefore fixes the increase at 6.86 per cent, but Senator LaFollette, independent republican, Wisconsin, has figured from Smoot's own tabulation that the actual increase is 20 per cent.

In dollars, Smoot calculated the bill will bring about $630,456,280 in import duties as compared with $522,649,383 now being collected. This would mean an additional annual toll of $107,806,897, but the democrats assert the total toll will be a billion dollars. They call the measure the "billion dollar tariff bill."

The lobby committee scheduled no meeting today. Late yesterday it voted not to cite Bishop James Cannon, Jr., for contempt or to force him to answer its yet unanswered questions. It did vote, however, to transmit the entire record of his case to the senate. It is contended in some quarters the law requires Vice President Curtis to certify the case to the district attorney for prosecution. Members of the committee hold differing opinions of the significance of their action, and the senate may finally be called upon to decide the issue.

A deluge of protests against Secretary of State Stimson's challenge of the admirals' opposition to the London treaty were foreseen as a likely immediate result of the secretary's vigorously worded radio plea in behalf of the pact last night.

Most of the officers whose opinions Stimson described as narrow and intolerantly militaristic are in active service and probably could not publicly answer the criticism. But several, including Rear Admiral Hilary P.

Jones, are on the retired list and, judging by precedents, may speak without penalty. In addition, several members of the senate were believed likely to defend the naval officers against the Stimson speech.

The senate foreign relations committee reassertion of the senate's right to secret papers pertaining to the London conference was before the president and Stimson today and may draw a reply. Meanwhile, the committee planned to continue its discussion of the treaty.

The house was scheduled to take up private calendar bills today.

Old Railroad Tunnel

The first railroad tunnel in the United States was the Staple Bend tunnel and was about four miles east of Johnstown, Pa. It was built for the Allegheny Portage railroad and was used from 1834 to 1857.

Commemorative Statue

The Statue of Liberty was designed to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of American Independence, but it was not finished until 1885. It was dedicated October 23, 1886.
